JIIT Ranked No. 1 Engineering College in Delhi (NCR) by Hindustan Times Campus Survey

Private institutes are given awards at a conclave after an HT Campus-Cfore survey selects the best on the basis of programmes, faculty, facilities and innovations.

HT Conclave Survey

The Hindustan Times Campus (HTC) Conclave on Excellence in Education 2013 was organized with the objective of felicitating private institutions who have made considerable contribution to education in the Delhi NCR region. A survey was carried out by HTC Campus in association with Clear, a multi-disciplinary research organisation. The survey spanning about 300 colleges across engineering, technology, management, mass communication, animation and fashion and hotel management was carried out on the basis of courses on offer, faculty, facilities, fees, placement and industry exposure, among other parameters.

A special category, the Jury Awards for excellence extraordinary was also instituted after individually judging the infrastructure facilities of colleges. Planned, conceptualised and executed by HTC Campus, the Hindustan Times Campus (HTC) Conclave on Excellence in Education was the first event of its kind.

All about the awards

The Jury Awards were designed to felicitate colleges who have made extraordinary contribution to the field of education in various capacities. These categories were accorded to colleges who have gone beyond the regular course curriculum to offer a holistic learning experience to students. This section of awards was finalised after a rigorous round of cross checks and data validation, which resulted in each college being visited by the jury team individually.

Best Innovation in Industry Integration - This category recognised innovation of an institute in terms of a project, programme or any other initiative with a view to strengthen the industry academic interface in terms of student learning. The award for Best Innovation in Industry Integration was presented to Amity University, Manesar Campus.
